

Living in Minnesota presents new immigrants with many challenges.

Is one of them our attitude?

Maybe you believe there are more foreign-born Minnesotans now than ever before. Or that recent immigrants to Minnesota aren't learning to speak English fast enough. Or that immigrants are more likely to go on welfare than those of us who were born in Minnesota. Many Minnesotans harbor these common (but statistically untrue!) beliefs about our most recent waves of immigration. And while these good Minnesotans seldom complain out loud, they sometimes let their negative feelings affect the way they interact with immigrants on the street, and in businesses, places of worship and schools. Learn more about it. Call us at 612-672-3809 and we'll send you our free booklet Immigration in Minnesota.

Minnesota, nice or not?
